Military instruction, practice and discipline are required for all cadets throughout their stay in the college in faith that a citizen is not fully equipped for his duty to the State, unless he is trained for service in its defense as well as for its upbuilding. The story of our Nation's struggles for existence justifies this faith.

The achievements of Norwich graduates sufficiently attest the efficiency of the system of instruction.

"The liberties of Rome were safe while military information was generally diffused and every Roman citizen considered and felt himself a soldier,"—Captain Alden Partridge, Founder of Norwich University.

The Memory of Robert Hugh Phillips

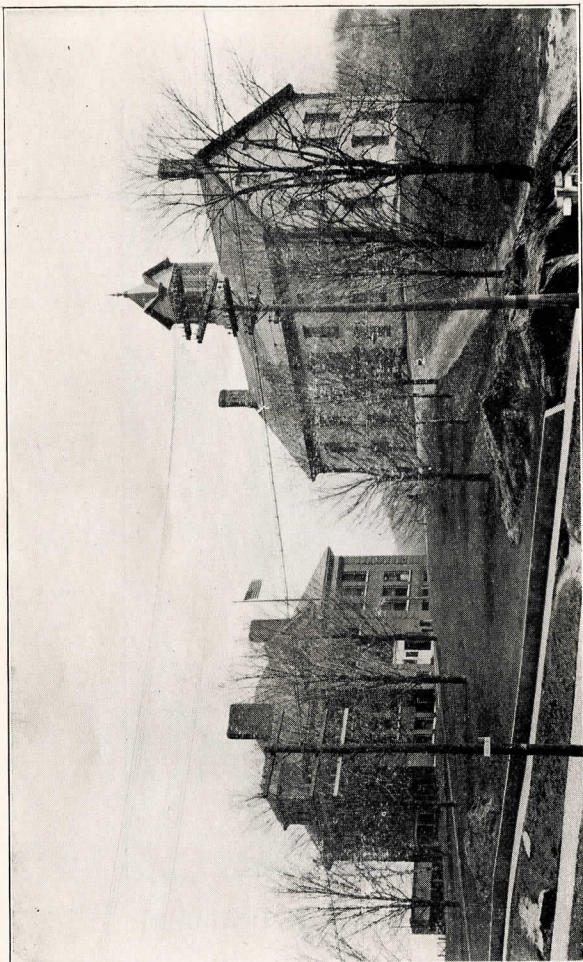

A Former Classmate And A True And Loyal Friend

ROBERT HUGH PHILLIPS

Robert Phillips was born in Northfield, Sept. 14, 1905. He attended the Graded School for eight years, after which he spent two years in the High School. In Sept. of 1921, he entered Phillips Exeter Academy where he continued his studies for a year and a half, at the end of which time he was taken ill.

He died at Waterbury, November 7, 1922, and was buried in Mount Hope Cemetery, Northfield, Vermont.

The Home of the Northfield High and Graded Schools

FOREWORD

The "RAMBLER" will have served its purpose and justified the hopes of its editors if it aids the citizens of Northfield to a fuller estimate of the immeasurable returns upon their generous investment in the schools of the town.

The public is too liable to leave the responsibility of the success of the school to the officials elected to represent them, and consequently to lose personal interest, thereby depriving the schools of their sympathy and moral support.

It is our hope, therefore, that the "RAMBLER" may reach every citizen and to some extent stimulate personal interest, greater co-operation and thus be instrumental in the still higher service of the schools, through the coming years.

The "RAMBLER" will aid the memory of the pupils in recalling little incidents of their High School days, and because of the various writers who have contributed to the "RAMBLER" it should have an added interest both to the school and to the public.

THE FACULTY

Soon we, the class of '23, will leave High School days behind us, but before leaving, we wish to thank our instructors for their aid and co-operation. Although we may not always have carried out instructions and followed rules, we hope that they will overlook our faults and remember our good points. Let them be assured that the four years passed in High School will never be forgotten.

JOHN J. FINNESSY, A. B.

University of Vermont, 1916

Principal and Instructor in Mathematics.

Mr. Finnessy has been with us for seven years, with the exception of the short time he was in the Service. He is always ready to help or advise in every way he can, and we appreciate his efforts. His achievements in Northfield High School are acknowledged and honored.

MYRTLE A. ROGERS

Albany Business College, 1915

Instructor in Commercial Department

During the three years that Miss Rogers has been with us she has worked hard in our interests, and through her efforts the Commercial Department has been raised to a higher standard.

MARJORIE L. PERRIN, A. B.

University of Vermont, 1921

Instructor in Latin and Geometry

Miss Perrin will be remembered by the Class for her interest in both scholastic and social matters. This year she has given a great deal of her time to the Girls' Basketball team in order that its first season might be a success.

HELEN C. DORAN, A. B.

College of New Rochelle, 1922

Instructor in French and History

Our French teacher, Miss Doran, has been with us only one year, but during that time she has done much for the Class of '23 and the school, and has even proven herself a kind and efficient teacher.

A. CLARE MARKHAM Ph. B.

University of Vermont 1922

Instructor in English Department

Miss Markham during the year has devoted her time to the English Department, and has accomplished much towards its improvement. Her efforts are valued by the class of '23.

BERTHA HAWLEY WHITNEY

Instructor in Music.

Due to Mrs. Whitney's efforts in the Music Department much interest has been aroused throughout the school. In spite of difficulties she has done her work well.

CLASS OF NINETEEN TWENTY-THREE

One fall day in the year 1910, nine of my classmates and I entered Grade One on our school career, with Mrs. Woodbury as teacher. Slowly as year by year passed we gained more knowledge, learned more of this great world, and at the same time climbed from grade to grade. Finally the goal was reached, within the period of eight short happy and joyful years. Sorrowfully when June came, our class, which then numbered thirty, left the grades, our school life there being over. With eager hearts we looked forward to what was coming. We were about to enter on a new field of work, something we all longed to undertake and to complete, our course in High School.

At last our ambitions were gratified. We started our High School course. The boys can remember very vividly the first day. After performing various stunts for the upper classmen, we gained our entrance into the school. The girls, however, being more fortunate, obtained their entrance without any hazing.

Our first three years passed only too quickly with hard study and enjoying ourselves with athletics and social affairs.

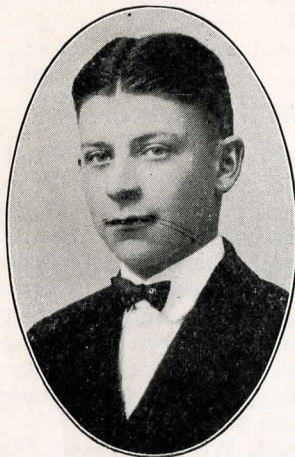

Our fourth year went well, no sadness occurring until the death of our beloved classmate, Robert Phillips, who had left us the previous year to finish his high school course at Phillips Exeter Academy.

Our happy school days are rapidly drawing to a close, when many of us shall be separated—some to go on farther in school together, others to take up their life work. But, whatever we do, and wherever we go, we shall always look back on our happy school days at N. H. S.

Lebero Daneluzzi.

JYLES E. BERRY"The Candy Kid""By Crimino"*

This is Jyles a kind thoughtful little youth. When it comes to girls he has Romeo beat a mile. Since he has taken up Dr. Coue, his confectionery trade has increased by leaps and bounds. Recently in the lab he tested a gas called 'Rotten Eggs' for which his name will be ranked with Faraday. He is the intellectual genius of our class and has made and invented several new definitions and written several textbooks for his own welfare in late prepared lessons. Among his other inventions is the Kangaroo Waltz. Well, good luck Jyles. Don't do anything the rest of us wouldn't.

AUBREY ALBERT BRITAIN*"Brit"

Fourth Honor
Business and advertising manager of Rambler 4

See what the cat brought in. Don't take this literally for this time the cat chose a good one. Well, Aubrey dropped in out of nowhere and settled in our class and insisted on having his name in our "Hot Stove League". We awaited the comeout. He began to show us his dust in school and to make us look green in the social way. Why even now the teachers are very careful about the questions they ask him. Since he got his license, (auto license) and entered the undertakers business he looks like the Czar of Russia.

IDA M. BURNHAM*"Idea""Number Please"*

Ida has been a "Hello" girl for most of the time during her High School course, but her marks will show that she has not neglected her studies. She has always been a loyal member of the class and we wish her success in whatever work she may choose.

OSBORNE E. CHASE*"Ossy""Judas Priest","Christopher Crimino"*

Varsity Basket Ball 4

Cheer Leader 3

Associate Editor of the "Rambler"

Honk! Honk! What is that noise, a brass band coming? Gee, no, it's just Chase and is 1909 Hup that he calls "My Can." This is the boy that paralyzes the hearts of the weaker sex. Osborne is one of the best sports in the class and every dance and party finds him among it's happy throngs accompanied by his lady "fair." Ossy usually spends most of his spare time at the Doctor's. Whether he is learning the profession or is otherwise engaged, we have been unable to determine.

ETHYL M. COOK

"Cookie"

"I should say not"

Cookie likes dances, especially "Three O'Clock ones". She is at present hard at work upon a new translation of "Homer", which will certainly excel any that has ever been written. Ethyl is a loyal friend and classmate.

ANNA LANGDON DAVIS

"I should worry""What nonsense!"

Yes, this is Anna Davis, and if that doesn't spell "basket ball" to you, just take a look at her picture. Anna works well on any refreshment committee of which she may happen to be a member. This ability was discovered at the time of our "Junior" dance. We shall remember Anna not only for her social abilities, but also as a faithful classmate who never shirked her duties.

Did you ever meet a fellow whom you could not help liking whether you would or not? One who is always cheerful, works hard, plays hard and can always be depended upon? If you never have, here is your opportunity. Cuny, our hats are off to you!

NELLIE AUGUSTA DEVINE

Nell

"You tell 'em, kid."

President 1-3

First Honor

Assistant Editor of Year Book

Here is a girl of many deeds and accomplishments. Nellie started in to do a little better than some others and so far she has succeeded mightily. In truth, she has quite over-stepped us. And you ought to see her play "Ball". She certainly has all the rules down pat. Good luck to you, Nellie, and may your success at U. V. M. be as great as it has been at N. H. S.

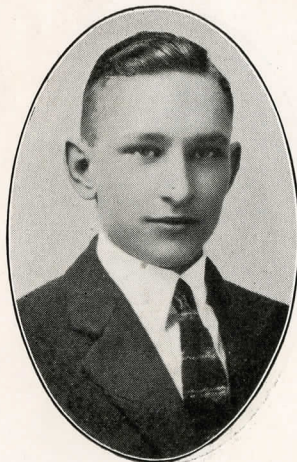

MARGUERITE C. DONAHUE
"Peg"

"I didn't do it."
Captain Girl's Varsity Basket Ball 4

This merry young lady has been with us all through High School. She had rather dance than eat, but she does not spend all of her time in this manner. For instance, in Latin class when trying to decide whether it is noun or a verb she is talking about, she is very serious. She is always talking about Worcester. Oh, no! Not Massachusetts Worcester, but "her" Worcester. We wish her luck when she enters U. V. M. next year.

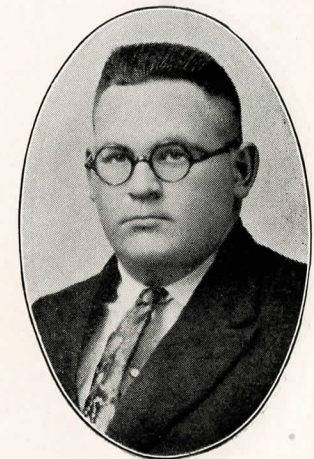

GRENVILLE B. ELLIS
"Gramp"

"He knows about it all—he knows—he knows!"—Omar Khayyan

Take a careful look at the picture. Study it closely. This is Gramp, airy and graceful as a sylph. Subject to heart failures every now and then, but it is believed that his case is not serious. He has loads of common sense with a considerable mixture of savior faire.

GEORGE H. FISHER
"Tubby"

Here sits Tubby, one of the best friends a fellow could have and at whom you can't get angry, no matter how hard you try. Tub is an efficient and faithful worker as has been shown by his long term at the Savoy. When he has the time we expect him to prove as great a success socially as he has otherwise.

Charles Arthur Goodrich
"Art"

"What do you know about that "

Generally known as the chivalrous knight of N. H. S. and the holder of the loving cup. His school years have perhaps not been brilliant but have added one little spark of humor to our dreary lives. His one outstanding sin is his devotion to that game of chance called Ping Pong. He is considered by most girls a perfectly charming young man, the one with the brown eyes, you know. He is a professional night walker much to the envy of many and can do more on less sleep than Napoleon himself. The country around the west side seems to bother him quite a little, as we can only guess, for actions speak louder than words. But all fooling aside he is a good sport and a great cut-up.

BERNICE I. HAZELTON
"Bern"

"Gee, but it was peachy."

The rumor is that Bernice is very fond of "Majors," nice "Hall's" and "Nichols." If this is so, we feel that Bernice has a high life before her, if she can only manage to save her nichols for the rainy day, while enjoying herself with the "Hall".

DORIS E. HOLDEN

"Darned if I know"

During her four years in High, Doris has proven herself to be a good sport as well as a loyal classmate. She tells us that after graduation she is planning to go to work in a "Steele" factory as stenographer, and there to become rich enough to own a "Martin" fur. Well, here's wishing you luck, Doris.

FRANCIS C. HOUGHTON
"Fran"

"Darned if I know."

Varsity Basket Ball 2, 3, 4

Class Basket Ball 1, 2, 3, 4

Basket Ball Manager 3

Varsity Base Ball 3, 4

Vice President 3

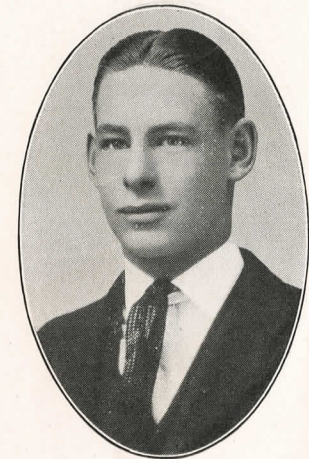

President 4

Captain Baseball 4

Editor in Chief of "Rambler"

Do you know what Fran's favorite bait for fishing is? Well, if you don't I'll tell you. It's "Minnie-s".

I think it is unnecessary to introduce you to "Fran." because you must have meet him in some of his numerous activities. Fran is also popular among the fairer sex. Besides he boasts of having the sharpest knife in school. If he continues his good work when he gets upon the hill he surely will make good, and we all know he will.

L. MERLE HOUSE

"Oh, for cat's sake"

This calm young lady came quietly into our midst when we were in the grades. She has remained with us ever since, always trying to help others, unconscious of her own good qualities. She is looked up to by all who know her, and could perhaps be characterized as follows: Cheerful, calm, ready to help and anxious to please.

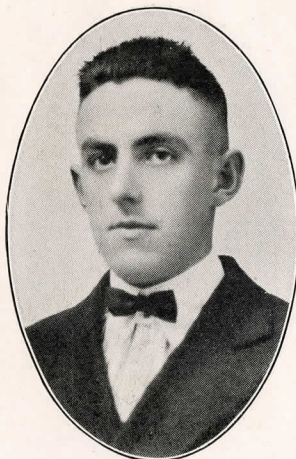

DOROTHY M. HUBBARD

"Dot"

"Oh Gosh."

Dot, the musician is very fond of nature. She has repeatedly told us that she thinks that there is nothing like the "Lanes" of Vermont. Although she has been with us only four years we have always found her to be a loyal classmate and friend.

H. DWIGHT HUBBARD

"Hub" "Sam"

"Silence has become his mother tongue."—Goldsmith.

Varsity Baseball 3, 4

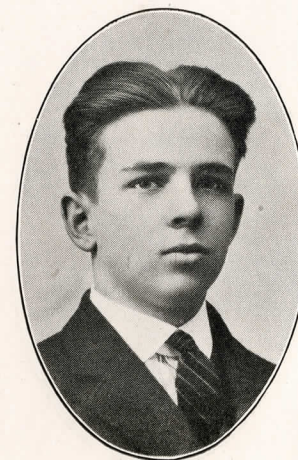

A youth who says little, but does well what he finds to do. Hub is not very prominent in social affairs for he seems to be a little bashful toward the young ladies. But when it comes to talking about the baseball diamond, Sam is the star every time. We wish him success and happiness in his future.

DWIGHT BUSH HUNTLEY

"Oh, what may man within him hide,Though angel on the outer side."

—Shakespeare.

One day we found this quiet youth under a pile of books. We pulled him out and brushed him off giving to the world Dwight. Since he has been with us he has developed along several lines but only in this last year has he leaned toward dancing. In spite of his weaknesses Dwight is a rare classmate, so let's send him off as one good example of which to be proud.

BESSIE C. KINGSTON

"Bess"

"Well, for a crime like that."

Bessie has been a loyal member of our class since she joined us in Grade 8. She is very interested in politics, being a true Democrat and says if "Willson" was ever candidate for the Presidency again, she would cast her vote in his favor. We wish her success in whatever path she may choose.

ALICE G. STEVENS

"Sis"

"I hope to tell you."

Although East Roxbury has attracted much of Alice's time and attention we have found her to be a very loyal friend and classmate since she joined our class.

We hope she may be equally successful in whatever path she may choose as she has been while in High school.

NORBERT J. TOWNE

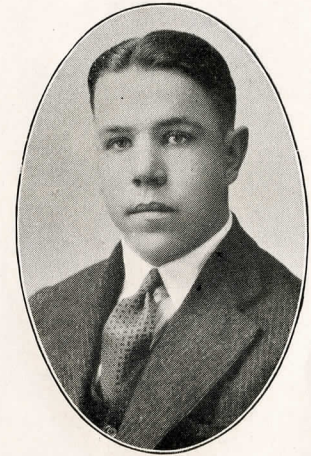

"Billikins"

Billikins is one of these good natured young fellows who never have much to say but move right along with the rest of us never the less. He hails from West Berlin and up until this last year he hasn't been interested very much in the social life of N. H. S. This last year, however, he has stepped out and drives home with "Lizzie" every night. Billikins tells us that he is going to follow in his brother's footsteps next year at St. Michaels. His memory will always remain green in the minds of his classmates.

JOHN DUNCAN WELCH
"Fat"

John has been a loyal supporter in our class since it originated in Grade 1. Perhaps he can give you a few pointers on "The Effects of Overstudy". He does not have much to do with the social affairs of the community for some reason or other. There are a great many who will miss that laugh next year when they are telling a good joke.

Of course Fat works hard, that is, to hear him tell it. His character measures up with the rest of him. He is as square, well you know what we mean by square, as men are made and we wish him every success when he leaves us in June.

Class of 1924

"Mile by mile, and every little while, we climb higher and higher, some in height and some in knowledge."

In 1920 we entered N. H. S. thirty strong and continuing through the year successfully, we put the gear into second and started up hill on our "Sophomore Grade."

We are now twenty-five strong having lost several of our fellow travellers who decided to "get out and walk."

The Junior Class has many hard hills to climb and many bumps to go over, two of them being the Junior play and the Senior Reception, which, as has been shown before, take a lot of time and work.

We are hoping to get through our Senior year without any collisions or more than the usual number of "blow-outs."

W. A. Flint, '24.

Class of 1925

We, the class of '25, consisting of thirty-nine Freshmen, full of ambition, entered N. H. S. in the fall of 1921.

Two weeks after commencing our duties, the Sophomores tendered us a most cordial reception at Dewey Hall. Other social events of the year affecting our class consisted of a party and a straw-ride.

Evidently we possessed some degree of intelligence for our Freshmen days are over and our Sophomore year approaching an end.

On September 15, 1922, of our Sophomore year, our class entertained the Freshmen at Armory hall with a reception which was very successful. We have also held a party and have helped many to appease their hunger by selling candy.

To our misfortune several have left us, but those who remain hope to progress more and more. We feel that we owe much to the teachers who have so kindly and patiently helped us on the road to understanding.

Mary Huntley '25.

Class of 1926

When we entered the wide portals of Northfield High School, we were expecting rather a warm reception, for such had the rumor been. But, much to our surprise, it was a real friendly welcome that we received.

Our entrance into the social side of school life was made about two weeks after the beginning of the year, at the reception given for us by the Sophomore class in Armory hall. We wish to thank them for a very good time and hope we may do as well next year.

There have been no very thrilling events to make or mar our Freshman year, and now that it is almost over, we shall soon begin to think about being "Glorious Sophs". We wonder if we shall ever want to change places with the rooks.

We are looking forward to more social activities and academic accomplishments in the future and hope that we may be a credit to our Alma Mater.

Jacqueline Clark, '26.

ATHLETICS

Basketball

Plumley (Mgr.)

Dole (Capt.)

A season of basketball that can be truthfully termed "most successful" was completed on March 17th by Northfield High School and the final count was fourteen won and four lost out of eighteen games played. Out of the four, lost in one game there was a difference of one point and another required two extra periods to determine the better team. The real defeat of the season was when the high school five, with a few staunch rooters, journeyed to Montpelier where they were decisively beaten by a 52-8 score. We know that with more favorable conditions, refereeing, etc., Montpelier would have been forced to the utmost to secure a victory.

The team was made a success first, by the large squad that appeared at the practice sessions, which were gotten under way a little earlier than usual. After a few of these practices three teams were selected and short, snappy practice games were the result.

The first team was finally agreed upon, and the choice of Coach Finnessy was proven correct as the forwards Daneluzzi and Houghton developed into a very fast combination and both dangerous when closely guarded; the guard-positions found Capt. Dole and Chase on the job. Dole acted as a roving guard while his partner, Chase, remained at the stationary position and both of these men prevented a great deal of scoring at critical points in the games. The center position was ably filled by Raymond Davis, who got his share of the tap-offs, and then found time for considerable point gathering. When any of these men were called upon to leave the game the substitutes could be relied upon to fill their positions as ably as possible and this they did. These are the ones that will comprise the next year's team as nearly all of the present players are lost to us by graduation.

One two-day trip was taken, on which the team was twice victorious. The teams played were Bethel and Chelsea. At Bethel the boys team and the girls team joined forces to besiege the Metropolis of Chelsea, both teams winning the games.

For many years the athletics of N. H. S. have been confined to the boys alone. This year, the girls under the coaching of Miss Perrin, organized a team worthy of notice, when one considers that this was the first time most of the girls had played.

The first game was played at Cabot, December 8, 1922. Northfield won, and this victory gave the girls the courage they needed.

The next game was with South Royalton. This is the only game the girls lost.

The remainder of the games played this year were with Chelsea, Williamstown, Bethel, and Goddard Seminary.

The season ended March 16. It was a very successful season, as the girls played ten games and lost only one.

Much credit is due Miss Perrin, who was the most important factor in bringing about such a successful season.

The lineup and number of baskets made by each is as follows:

Name	Baskets	Fouls	Points
B. Ortiz, R. F.	8	14	30

Daneluzzi (Mgr.)

Houghton (Capt.)

We are about to start on our second baseball season.

Our first year did not appear as successful as it actually was. We had to buy new equipment and prepare a place to practice, besides practically learning the game. No one knew which was his best position and as a result much time was lost in tryouts.

This year we will have new, complete uniforms. The majority of last year's men are still in school, and so it only remains to work in a few new men. We all hope and plan for a most successful season.

The following schedule has been arranged by Mgr. Daneluzzi who is working hard in the interests of the team:

Waitsfield at Waitsfield	May 5
South Royalton at Northfield	May 9
Chelsea at Chelsea	May 12
Bethel at Northfield	May 16
Chelsea at Northfield	May 19
Waterbury at Northfield	May 21
South Royalton at South Royalton	May 23
Bethel at Bethel	May 26
Waterbury at Waterbury	May 30
Waitsfield at Northfield	June 8

Social Events 1922—1923

Two weeks after school opened, the Sophomores gave the Freshmen a very pretty reception in Armory Hall. At first each member of the class of '26 was formally introduced to the school board and faculty; then music for dancing was furnished by the Lyric Jazz Orchestra of Bethel. Between dances the thirst of the tired dancers was quenched by punch. In this manner the Freshman class was pleasantly initiated into the realms of high school life.

The week following the reception, the Seniors gave an entertainment consisting of songs and pantomines. Following this dancing and games were enjoyed until the clock announced the time for departure.

The Juniors and Sophomores were not to be outdone by the Seniors, and the next two Friday nights they, too, gave socials. The Freshmen also endeavored to show their school spirit but, unfortunately their plans were interrupted.

Then for a time all the girls turned their attention to the planning of a Harvest Supper to raise money for the Girls' Basketball team. It was very well attended and sufficient money was made to give the team a good start.

On November twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth the first Fair ever attempted by the High School was held in the Armory Hall. A large crowd attended both nights. Unique entertainments were provided which seemed greatly appreciated. Many dainty things were sold at the novelty booth and a large amount of candy was bought. After this, dancing was in order each night until mid-night. The money made was far beyond our greatest expectation.

A large amount of credit is due the faculty and the pupils in making this, our first High School Fair, a success.

Due to the many boys' and girls' basket-ball games no social events have occurred recently.

Marguerite C. Donahue.

So the week passed, only too quickly, yet it will long be looked upon as one of the most pleasant memories of the Class of 1922.

History of Northfield High and Graded School.

The elevated plot of ground between the Dog River and the Central Vermont Railroad tracts, where the High and Graded School buildings now stand, has been connected with the educational life of Northfield for seventy years. This land was given for school purposes by Gov. Charles Paine in 1850. Here in 1851 was erected a home for Northfield Academy. In 1854 by act of the Legislature the name was changed to Northfield Institution, and through a period of sixteen years under the guidance of eminent principals this institution made a deep impression on the life of the community. In 1870 the village school district was formed, and the High and Graded School had its beginning in the old Academy building. This building burned on January 13, 1876, and on its site was built our present graded school building which was occupied by both the Grades and High School until 1904. In the period from 1870 to 1900 the older people of Northfield will remember such names as Marshall R. Peck, A. R. Savage, Eben C. Smith A. W. Blair, and W. W. & Prescott as being among the principals of the school. The new High School building was dedicated May 23, 1905, the addresses being by Hon. Albert R. Savage, a Judge of the Supreme Court of Maine, and a former principal. In 1914 to 1916 the grounds were graded and transformed in to the present pleasing appearance. Among the more recent principals have been Charles A. Plumley, D. L. Robinson, George S. Wright, Ralph A. Eaton and John J. Finnessy. From this hill have gone out each year at graduation, as the years have come, young men and young women, whose lives have been enriched by the treasures of Northfield High School, and who are an inspiration to still others who shall follow.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Students for admission to High School must possess a certificate signed by Superintendent, or other credentials showing the pupil has satisfactorily completed the work of the eighth grade. If such credentials are not presented for admission to the school, examinations will be conducted by the Principal to determine the exact status of the pupil.

COLLEGE ENTRANCE

Northfield High School is one of the schools approved by the New England College Entrance Board, so that graduates, whose work merits certification by the Principal, may enter practically any College in New England and many outside of New England.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Marking System: A 90-100; B 85-90; C 75-85; D 70-75; unsatisfactory.

Examinations are held every six weeks at the end of which time report cards are sent to the parents for their consideration.

Special reports are issued when pupils are doing unsatisfactory work, and co-operation with the parents is used very successfully.

Tuition Rates: Tuition in the High School is $60.00 per year, payable in three installments, of $20.00 at the end of the Fall, Winter and Spring Terms. In the Grades the rate of tuition is $24.00 per year per pupil.

Room and Board: Accommodation with private families can usually be found at reasonable rates. In numerous instances students earn all or part of their expenses while attending the school.

THE FAR AWAY FIELDS THAT ARE GREEN

It is a human instinct to think that some other place is better than our place. Some other fellow's job looks like a bed of roses, while we fancy ours is a path of thorns. But if we could "trade places" we would find that it wasn't true. Our own fields are green if we will only open our eyes and look.

Strangers come to Vermont and admire our scenic beauty, our natural resources and our manufactured products. And they say "open your eyes! Look about and see what you have here in Vermont."

In the Crystal Confectionery Company plant in Burlington, Vermont there is manufactured every day candy superior to any in the United States. Thousands of candy lovers substantiate this statement.

There is no higher grade of raw material used, no more skilled or high class candy makers, than those employed in the manufacture of
